A little bit about... STACEY

For those of you who don't yet know my story I guess it's time to tell it, and explain how Mockingbird Lounge came into existence.

Starting up a second-hand book store and coffee lounge was always my retirement plan - I just ended up doing it a bit earlier than expected!

Books have always been a big part of my life, growing up reading and having only books allowed after dinner (no toys or TV).

Whilst at uni studying International Studies and Indonesian I worked at Angus & Robertson, a job I loved. After completing my degrees with some overseas study I returned and took up a position as Assistant Manager of the now defunct book shop.

This experience gave me the know-how I needed in terms of management and book knowledge.

Luckily for me I had decided to leave the company and start my own business before it closed down so the transition was less difficult for me.

It took about a year from leaving A&R to opening Mockingbird Lounge. In that time I completed a certificate in Small Business Management, gathered equipment, found the perfect premises and collected thousands of books!

And now here we are nearly 10 months later and Mockingbird Lounge is everything I dreamed it would be!
